information on this development

As an independent developer VITA Group has the freedom to create truly unique and bespoke developments. Where as many of our competitors have a house style or set approach to development, it is always Vita Group's aim to create residences that are designed to best suit their location and the needs of their future residents.

Our developments are micro managed to ensure they run on time and on budget, whilst careful planning enables our craftsmen to produce intricate attention to detail, finished to perfection. We are firm believers that great planning leads to exceptional results and we take great pride in choosing everything right down to the tiniest details. Our approach is bespoke, individual and niche, which has led to us achieving record breaking values for each of the projects we have completed. We apply a proven financial model to establish project viability and potential returns. This process is based on our experience of development costs, our knowledge of local markets and our vision on how best to transform a site to maximise value.

At VITA Group we understand that buying a new home is one of the most important decisions you will make during your lifetime.

From the moment you reserve your new VITA home, we pledge to make the experience enjoyable and as stress free as possible.

Throughout the entire process of building your new home, the VITA Group team will continually uphold its commitment to maintaining the highest standards.
